

Token board · 5 tokens

Your child earns a token for each step, then trades the full board for something they chose ahead of time. Start with 5 tokens.

How to use it

1. Choose the reward together and put its picture in the "I am working for" box.
2. Give a token straight away each time your child finishes a step or tries a new skill.
3. When the board is full, give the reward right away, then start again.
4. Once 5 feels easy, move to the 10-token board on the next page.

The token board is a rectangular frame with a thick black border. Inside, at the top, is a light blue rounded rectangle containing the text "I am working for:" in bold black font. To the right of this text is a white square box with a blue border, intended for a reward picture. Below this top section is a horizontal row of five identical light blue rounded squares, each containing a white circle with a grey outline, representing tokens.

Token board · 10 tokens

For when your child is ready to work a little longer before the reward.

I am working for:

Tokens

Print, cut out and stick velcro or reusable putty on the back so tokens can be added and removed.

✂ Cut around each token